

Horrible, Hideous, Hiding

Hood

Shonchari Subha
Retold Fairy Tales

Today, I would like to reveal
How my brother became someone's meal.
As I cry, I still remember
My brother's shriek and sombre.

A girl with a big red cloak
Was part of the nasty town's folk!
With her mighty gang,
she plots her fireworks. Big and Bang!

She stepped on my foot
And tripped me over a gigantic root
She called me nasty names
And played with me gruesome games!

She destroyed our food!
She tore my sister's tail and chewed!
She demolished our little burrow!

And stuffed it with dirty chunks of snow!

We told her to stop,

From bottom to the top.

She just gave me a dirty smirk

and called me a little wolf jerk!

We thought that's enough!

Now is the time we act tough

Me and my brother had a great plan!

We told our siblings and that's how it began:

“Get the costume!”

“Get the broom!”

“Spray the shower!”

“And clean the tower!”

“Sweep the footprints”

“Rub away the hints”

We don't wanna fail

or else it will turn into an 'unpredicted' tale

Shoo the grandma out of her house!

And make sure there is not any spouse

You ! Dress up as a beast.

And make sure that girl is seized!

Shhh! There she comes!

Now lay out all the plums.

Get ready brother wolf Jose,

To scare the little brat away.

Jose rapidly went inside,

while we hid outside.

The nasty little girl met her grandma(fake!)

as we kept our ears and eyes awake

First, we heard a sweet little voice which we knew it wasn't her choice

Next, came a deep grumpy growl

and the girl's small scared scowl

At that moment, we heard a loud gunfire

but it wasn't like a lyre

We all were terribly scared,

as our beady eyes glared

As she came out in the wood

we saw her new little hood

She grinned and said" Please note

my new wolfy coat!"

This is the tale

of how we failed

This is little Red Riding Hood

and how we became her food!

Read more fairy tales on Fairytalez.com